

Amare Safety Quality Policy

Amare Safety is committed to providing quality products and services that fully meet the requirements of our customers at all times. We will source quality products from the world's leading manufacturers and continually aim to provide these products at reasonable and competitive rates.

In support of our products we will provide and adopt "world's best practice" in terms of our service and after sales support offering.

Our staff will be responsible for identifying customer service requirements and ensuring that the correct procedures are adopted to meet those requirements.

We shall ensure that all staff are fully conversant with our quality policy and are able to perform their duties through an ongoing training and development program.

Amare Safety will constantly review and improve on our services to ensure tasks are completed in the most cost efficient manner for the benefit of all our customers.
